"At Christmas play and make good cheer, for Christmas comes but once a year."

The campus will be celebrating the holidays in style this year:

In a special invitation from Chancellor Krevans, Hospital Director William Kerr and each of the five deans, all staff employees and academic faculty members have been invited to the first campus-wide holiday celebration on Monday, December 17, from 3 to 7 p.m. in the Millberry Union gym and combined lounges.

There will be dancing in the gym to the sounds of the six-piece band "C.P. Salt;" well-known Bay Area jazz singer Cookie Wong will perform from 3 to 5 p.m. and the five-piece jazz combo featuring UCSF musicians John Conte, Roger Crumley, Bob Markison, David Watts and Phil Weinstein will perform from 5 to 7 p.m. in the combined lounges.

A hot buffet also will be available in the combined lounges and light snacks and beverages in the gym.

Millberry Union is sponsoring a Holiday Crafts Faire with handcrafted items and refreshments on Wednesday and Thursday, December 12 and 13, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Millberry Union lounges. Some 25 artisans will be displaying their wares ranging from wooden toys to children's clothing.

Millberry Food Services is putting together a dessert extravaganza with some 15 different tarts, tortes and taste teasers, and will serve hot spiced cider and egg nog. The Millberry Bookstore will have a special holiday sale in the Madrone Room.

For the entire two weeks before Christmas the Millberry Union Plaza will be filled with various crafts for sale.

On Tuesday, December 18, children from the UCSF Child Care/Study Center will go caroling along Parnassus Avenue, stopping in campus lobbies and entertaining employees in several surprise locations.

Carolers from various neighborhood groups will grace the halls of the hospitals both days and evenings during the week of December 17. Anyone interested in caroling, donating gifts or volunteering to help with patient care during the holiday season should call Volunteer Services at x1196. The Retired Senior Volunteers are making Christmas stockings in which mothers who deliver on Christmas Day can carry their newborns home.

Noted Bay Area announcer Scott Beach will read Christmas and Hanukkah stories to the patients on the pediatric wards on Thursday, December 13. Volunteer Services also is sponsoring a Christmas party for the pediatric wards on Tuesday, December 18, with a clown, balloon lady and free gifts.

The campus continues its participation through Monday, December 17, in the San Francisco Fire Fighters 34th Annual Toy Drive for San Francisco needy children. Anyone who has new or used toys for children up to age 13 can deposit them in toy barrels in the lobbies of the Ambulatory Care Center, Medical Sciences, Moffitt, old UC Hospital; Moffitt Cafeteria's Golden Gate Room, the Personnel Office, third floor lobby of CED and Oyster Point lobby. For further information call Brenda Sanchez at x4021.

The Langley Porter Psychiatric Institute will hold its annual Holiday Grab-bag on Tuesday, December 18, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the LPPI lobby. A ticket will be drawn every half-hour with the final grand prize drawing for a 19-inch color TV at 2 p.m. Grab-bag items will include gift certificates in such stores as I. Magnin's and Livingston's, and dinners for two at various San Francisco restaurants. Tickets at $1 or a book of 20 for $15 are available from the LPPI switchboard or by calling x77-506 or x77-395. The drawing is sponsored by the LPPI Staff Advisory Committee for Development and Internal Affairs. All proceeds will go to the LPPI Patients Benefit Fund. There will be entertainment and free refreshments.

A candlelight service will be held on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. and a Christmas Day mass at 11:30 a.m. in the 14th floor Moffitt solarium; both to be televised to patient rooms on Channel 13 and patient lobbies on CCTV Channel 2. Also televised on the same stations for the first time this year will be nightly Hanukkah candlelighting ceremonies from December 18 to 25 at 5:15 p.m.

Moffitt Cafeteria will be selling holiday gift packages of cookies and holiday fruit cakes and breads at $5 to $8 from December 10 to January 1. To place an order call Nutrition & Dietetics at x1461. In addition, a special holiday lunch and dinner for staff, patients and friends of the campus will be offered at the cafeteria on Christmas and New Year's Day. The Christmas menu, at a discounted $3.85, will include roast Cornish hen with rice pilaf and pumpkin pie. The New Year's fare will include baked ham, sweet potoatoes and pecan pie, and will cost $4.45. A special buffet with free cake and punch will be set up for all hospital employees who will be working on Christmas Day.

Official campus holidays for Christmas and New Year's are Monday and Tuesday, December 24 and 25, and Monday and Tuesday, December 31 and January 1. The campus will be open Wednesday to Friday, December 26 to 28. Those employees regularly paid on the first of the month will receive their checks on Wednesday, January 2.

One of the world's leading geneticists, Philip Leder, MD, of Harvard, will be the 1985 Ethel and Jane Sokolow Visiting Scientist at UCSF the week of January 14.

During his stay he will participate in departmental seminars and deliver several lectures, including the main lecture entitled "Misplaced Oncogenes," on Monday, January 14, from 2 to 3 p.m. in Cole Hall.

Leder also will present Medicine Grand Rounds on Wednesday, January 16, from 10:30 a.m. to noon in Cole Hall. He will speak on "Molecular Genetics and the Analysis of Certain Human Lymphomas."

The John Emory Andrus Professor and chair of genetics at Harvard Medical School, Leder for the last two decades has been involved in fundamental research directed towards understanding the nature of gene action. His work, first at NIH and then at Harvard, has ranged from the genetic code to the action and structure of genes as diverse as those involved in the immune response and the development of malignancy.

The Ethel and Jane Sokolow Memorial Cancer Endowment Fund was established in 1973 from memorial gifts given after their deaths in 1970. Sole consideration in selection of the visiting scientist is "excellence in the broad field of cancer research and recognition by the scientific community of the candidate's accomplishments."

The monthly parking fees for the UCSF garages will increase beginning January 1 as follows:

- "A" decals—faculty and management, "G" decals—staff employees, and "HS" decals—House Staff will increase from $27 to $31;
- "L" decals—night parking after 5 p.m.—from $3 to $3.50;
- "N" decals—evening parking after 2:30 p.m.—from $11.25 to $12.75;
- "RH" decals—off-campus faculty—from $6.75 to $7.75;
- "G" pool permits for three or more staff employees per automobile, from $9 per person to $10.33 per person.

In addition, "B" decals—Surge parking lot on Medical Center Way—have increased from $13.50 to $15.50.

For further information call the Parking Office at x2566.

Seven new graduate physicians have been chosen for the joint UCSF/Stanford Robert Wood Johnson Clinical Scholars Program for July 1985. The four candidates at UCSF will be:

- Paul David Blanc, MD, a resident in internal and occupational medicine, Cook County Hospital, Chicago, will study epidemiology of industrial- and environmental-associated illness, under Joseph La Dou, MD, acting chief, Division of Occupational and Environmental Medicine.
- Nancy Milliken, MD, a chief resident of Ob/Gyn at the University of Pennsylvania, Phila., will study ethical problems in contemporary obstetrics and gynecology, under Albert Jonsen, PhD, professor, medical ethics; and Robert Jaffe, MD, chair, Ob/Gyn.
- Michael Paul Rafferty, MD, a resident in internal medicine at George Washington University Hospital, Washington, DC, will study public financing of health care for the poor, under Gerald Charles, MD, associate professor of medicine, and chief of general medicine at the VAMC; and economic researcher Victor Fuchs, PhD, Stanford.
- Lewis Gordon Sandy, MD, a senior resident in internal medicine at Beth Israel Medical Center, NY, will study the interaction of academic medicine and private enterprise in health care plans for employees, under preceptors from UCSF Hospital Administration and Stanford Business School.

The departments of nursing at UCSF are seeking nominations for The Distinguished Nurse Award, to be presented during Founders Day ceremonies in April 1985. The award recognizes an outstanding contribution by a UCSF nurse to the care of patients and fosters awareness of achievements in nursing practice.

Criteria for selection include:

- significance of the problem addressed by the nurse's project or approach to nursing practice, administration or education;
- creativity and innovation shown in the nurse's project and effectiveness of the methods used;
- quality of the nurse's assessment of the results of the project and the degree of beneficial outcome in the nurse's setting;
- applicability of the project to improving practice in other settings.

Nominations by colleagues and self-nominations are invited, and should include:

- covering letter with name, address, telephone number and present UCSF position of nominee;
- brief description (500 words or less) of the project or approach, including goals and strategies;
- two letters from colleagues supporting the nomination.

Nominations should be submitted by Friday, January 18, to Rosanne Rappazini, Room M 185.

The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation also sponsors a Clinical Nurse Scholars Program, which held a research conference November 29 on campus. Nine scholars including three from UCSF presented research papers.

Shannon Perry, PhD, discussed "The Effects of Epidural Anesthesia on Behavior in Labor;" Callista Roy, PhD, "Changes in Simultaneous and Successive Information Processing in Patients with Closed-Head Injury;" Diane Scott, PhD, "A Comprehensive Support Program for Women Newly Diagnosed with Breast Cancer." All are in the last year of two-year fellowships designed to provide post-doctoral nurses with advanced clinical and research expertise in nursing care involving complex health care technologies.

The conference was held for the National Advisory Committee of the Robert Wood Johnson Clinical Nurse Scholars Program, the directors from the program's three sites—UCSF, the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Rochester—and the 18 current post-doctoral fellows.

New nursing scholars, who began at UCSF this fall, are: Janet Blenner, PhD, recently associate professor of nursing at the University of San Diego; Inge Corless, PhD, recently director of St. Peter's Hospice, Albany, NY; and Dorothy Lanuza, PhD, on leave from Loyala University of Chicago, Marcella Niehoff School of Nursing.

The 1985 Troy C. Daniels Lecturer is Jerry R. Mitchell, MD, PhD, professor of internal medicine and chemical toxicology at the Institute for Lipid Research, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston. Mitchell will be on campus the week of January 7 to present:

- "Peroxidation, Ca^{2+} and Chemical Injury." HSW 303. 4-5 p.m. Mon., Jan. 7;
- "Alkylation, Ca^{2+H} and Chemical Injury." HSW 303. 4-5 p.m. Wed., Jan. 9;
- "Glutathione, Ca^{2+} and Chemical Injury." HSW 301. 11 a.m.-noon. Fri., Jan. 11.

A Burroughs Wellcome Scholar for Clinical Pharmacology, Mitchell's research includes clinical pharmacology and toxicology, cardiovascular pharmacology, drug metabolism and biochemical and chemical reaction mechanisms.

The Troy C. Daniels Lectureship honors the former dean of the UCSF School of Pharmacy, who has been a leader in the development of pharmacy and pharmaceutical education for more than 50 years.

It's not too late!!! Anyone who has forgotten to send in a United Way envelope can still do so. If for some reason your United Way envelope did not reach you, one can be picked up in the deans' offices, the Chancellor's Office or at the Medical Sciences information desk. For further information call Susan Montrose or Francie Petrocelli in the Chancellor's Office at x2401.
